

1. Becoming one with the Universe in a way where your life is entirely the expression of a force that is here in service to collective awakening
2. Being a plot twist for the Universe
3. Always looking to uncover and be intimate with true nature
4. Oriented towards wisdom, love, depth, insight, truth, patience, kindness, spaciousness, emptiness
5. Standing outside Plato's cave - being the person who is here to show others how and why to leave the cave
6. Always encouraging others to let go of the raft and to find their own wisdom, depth and path rather than take mine or someone else's as rote
7. Thoughts, feelings, experiences and encounters are the process of refining or moving towards more truth and love in myself or in the world
8. Deep phenomenal precision and experiential sensitivity - can feel very clearly what is happening in a present moment
9. Having cleared out a huge proportion of personal and collective trauma, I am now mostly empty space for the Universe to express itself through
10. I am deeply connected to what feels like an energetic cosmic tree - my energetic roots and shoots go all the way out into the depths and heights of experience and I can easily access the full range of experience
11. Undone all the subconscious structures of thought that keep a lid on what reality is perceived to be
12. Being almost entirely in the present moment
13. Primary sense-making system is cosmic, rather than personal
14. Everything first passes through the depths of the primordial cosmic soup
15. Meaning as a thing that can be entirely flexible - something can have several different meanings to me at once and that is part of the fractal nature of experience
16. Life as a thing that is just going through its motions
17. An embodied expression of interdependence
18. Always in cessation while also being online
19. Everything in the Universe is psychedelic - the mind and soul revealing itself to itself
20. Lots of experience is psychedelic in its phenomenal and experiential nature
21. Devotion to truth and love - the balance between being patient with people's capacity and unfolding and being courageous in saying the hard truth
22. Everything is an impersonal expression of forces moving through the Universe

23. A really deep understanding of people's inner worlds and subconscious structures that allows me to work directly with the thing they need
24. Powers - ability to feel what is present in certain aspects of people's experience (energetic, emotional, imaginal), often with more clarity than they can
25. Everything is a synchronicity. Often finding myself at the centre of incredibly wild synchronicities
26. Time has completely different shapes that it can take
27. Experience and the Universe is very clarified, simple, sane
28. Everything is Divine expression
29. Fully dissolved into God and the Universe both at once
30. Access to the space between the Universe
31. Having a very direct connection with the Universe's intelligence and many different realms - constantly being guided and shown things by the Universe
32. Showing new things to the Universe, discovering new ways and depths of being
33. Understanding rebirth and the way that karma develops over time
34. Understanding why things happen how they do
35. A level of fundamental confusion has been entirely removed from my experience
36. Spend a lot of time sorting through energies, clarifying them and putting them in their right place
37. Cosmic superhighway of information - having access to the information that is available in the energetics of the Universe, and having the space made through my being to be able to channel several layers of this at once, both through open space and the different layers of my being
38. My way of understanding is not a rigid structure with ideas, it's an alive eco-system that is expressing itself creatively in each moment in harmony with the Universe
39. The endlessness and the flexibility of my world means that every time I write or speak something new is emerging. Much like the allegory of a handful of leaves, it's more like a self-generating poetic dance of energies with endless combinations
40. There is a direct intimacy with every aspect of underlying experience as well as with its place in the whole. Every piece has been worked through, liberated and put in its proper place, so that it dances in its natural form and its own truth can express itself without me getting in the way

Descriptions of some common immediate experiences:

41. All of experience being waves of boundaryless non-dual sensations, sometimes pleasant sometimes unpleasant, without any concept of what is going on
42. The meaninglessness of everything from the perspective of being outside of space-time
43. Cosmic intelligence showing me the warehouse of my being or the Universe and taking me on a trip through what I need to see
44. Everything is the cosmic song
45. Everything can be entirely turned on its head at any moment
46. The process of being utterly gobsmacked that reality exists in its current form
47. Seeing through the veil to an outside with entirely different possibilities
48. Seeing through the veil to the underlying movement of associative meaning and energies
49. Being blown out into the cosmos, an energy show of the most detailed experiences
50. Being deeply in touch with the energetics of the inner world
